Mydear Sir,

By direction of the Dewan I send you the enclosed D O letter No. 132 of the 15th instant received from Mr J.S Chalkeraft and the Dewan's reply thereto in regard to finding additional accommodation for the Comptrollers office in the Public office buildings.

I remember the Dewan

Mentioning to you that the question of Shifting the Stamps Manufactory

D.O.No.132.

Comptroller's Office,
Bangalore, 15th November 1912.

My dear Mr. Visvesvaraya,

I beg to represent to you the difficulty which I am now experiencing as regards suitable accommodation for the various branches of my office.

2. At the beginning of the last Dewanship in 1909 two of the best and largest rooms occupied by my departments on the upper storey were taken away and converted into the Dewan's office and some inferior accommodation on the ground floor in the furthest wing of the building was given to me in exchange. At that time, by overcrowding and by making two Gazetted Officers sit in one room I somehow arranged to get on. But with the gradual increase of work and the consequent enlargement of establishment e.g., on account of Kannambady audit, the railway audit etc., the accommodation now at my disposal has proved to be very inadquate. When the re-organization of the Civil Branch of my office, which is long overdue and sanction to which is daily expected, is effected, I do not know how I shall manage unless I enclose the verandas and make some of the men sit there.

3. Again, the work of arranging the records of the Civil and Public Works Branches of my office has been actively going on for some time past. The records of the accounts office are amongst the most valuable records of the State and the condition in which I found these records -- tied up in bastas of cloth and huddled together in heaps -- was simply shocking. A small portion of my records viz., those appertaining to the State Huzur Treasury are still in the old condition and if you can spare a few minutes some day I can take you round and show the dif erence between the old and the new. But this systematic arrangement of records according to the modern method of record-keeping requires a certain amount of accommodation and I find that the whole of my records cannot be arranged properly unless I have more space.

4. If the space which is now taken up by the Stamp Manufactory is given to me fitted up with suitable iron racks my record requirements will be satisfied. I request that this may be done. A stamp manufactory is out of place in a building which accommodates the highest offices in the State. The Superintendent of Government Printing, Mr. Yates, is in charge of the factory and he cannot exercise adequate supervision over the operations from a distance and the whole thing has been practically left to a low paid ministerial officer. The proper place for the stamp manufactory will be a protected place in the Government Press very near Mr. Yates's own room. It would not be difficult to effect the removal of the stamp manufactory to the Press at once, the factory being located in a part of the permanent structure and the displaced section of the press being accommodated in a temporary zinc sheet structure till a permanent additional wing is built.

5. In this connection I may state that with the removal of the stamp factory to the Government Press, it will not be necessary to remove the large stock of blank stamp papers to the Press. I have already suggested in one of my reports on the audit of the Stamp Factory that the arrangement under which the stock of stamp papers and the factory for converting those papers into stamps are in charge of the same officer, is not satisfactory. The stock of papers should be left where it is and transferred to the charge of the State Huzur Treasury. The factory should get papers from this Depot to convert into stamps on weekly indents.

6. I do not exactly know if the Dewan's Office will continue to be located where it is at present or whether I may expect to get back the rooms in the near future.

Additional

G.P.-1912

Additional space to that extent will certainly be necessary when the re-organization is sanctioned and when the three Probationary Assistant Comptrollers and the Deputy Comptroller for Railways come to me. Besides this, the rooms now occupied by the Stamp Manufactory will be necessary for arranging my records and spreading out the overcrowded portions of my Office

7. Another point in this connection is the amalgamation of the Civil and Public Works accounts which I have in view and which should be brought into effect sooner or later to improve and consolidate the working of the Accounts Department. With different branches of my office located in scattered rooms in different parts of the building, the work of amalgamation will be rendered difficult. If the stamp factory rooms and the Dewan's Office rooms come to me, things will become easier.

8. Trusting that you will kindly consider the matter and issue necessary orders at an early date,

I am,

Yours sincerely,

J S Chakravarti

A project amounting to Rs 53,923 was prepared for the extension of the Government Press buildings in 1906, in accordance with Government Proceedings No. G.5727-66/G.P.109-03-04 dated 22nd April 1905.

The estimate provided for two single storied side wings in continuation of the existing wings and a two storied front block, as shown in the accompanying plan which was duly approved by the Superintendent.

The project was not sanctioned for want of funds. If Government are satisfied that all this additional accommodation shown in the plan is necessary, detailed estimate will be prepared and forwarded for orders of Government.

The report attached to the original project explains the details of the proposed - - additions.

13) The question of providing more accommodation for the Central Press has been under consideration for several years. A plan was drawn up before the appointment of the present Superintendent, (July 1905).

14) 2. In March, 1906, His Highness the Maharaja visited the Press & saw the plans of the proposed extensions, & generally approved of them. Want of funds, as stated in para 8, sheet 3 of this file, seems to have been the reason for not putting the work in hand.

15) 3. In his annual reports, the Supt. has again & again referred to the necessity for more accommodation, & modified plans have been suggested.

16) 4. In the meantime, small additions have been made to the existing buildings, including a proof-readers' room in the inner compound. Col. J. Smyth, M.D., I.M.S., the then Senior Surgeon & Sanitary Commissioner, did not look upon this favourably, being of opinion that it obstructed light & air so necessary for the adjoining rooms.

17) 5. If the ~~necessity for~~ enlargement of the Press was thought necessary in 1905, it must be much more so now, when the annual output of the Press has practically doubled.

16. At that time - 1905 - the question of transferring the Stamps Factory to the Press premises was not under consideration. Now that it has become a matter of importance & urgency, it goes without saying that, if the Factory is to be so transferred, suitable additional accommodation must be provided. The present floor space of the Factory - (not including the paper stores, which the Comptroller thinks may be left as it is) - is 14466 sq. feet of floor space. Now that the new Copying Papers, amounting to about five lakhs a year, have also to be produced in the Stamps Factory, more than this space will be necessary for printing, packing, &c.

(9) 7. Under these circumstances the Supt. is of opinion that nothing less than another complete quadrangle will suffice for this additional work & for the long required further space for the Press itself. But the rooms shd be built wider than the present ones, as ~~it~~ has already been suggested. Adding two wings would not be at all satisfactory. There must be a front gate, so that, as now, everyone passing in and out may be examined, if necessary, by either the Supt. or the gatekeeper; & the premises shd. be so arranged that the Factory should be as near as possible to the Supt's room

Men employed in such sedentary work as printing could not, & doubtless would not, endure such personal discomforts & the Supt. would be pardoned
if he respectfully declined to be responsible for valuable material being so housed. Again, where is the space within the Press walls to erect sheds covering at least 1,446 square feet? Apart from sanitary reasons, the importance of which cannot be overestimated, the compound space is required for the passage of vehicles bringing large quantities of paper &c throughout the year.

21) Q. The Supt's conclusion, therefore, is that the only wise course to be adopted

QP.7 19 of 1912-13

is to erect the quadrangle originally proposed, with the understanding that the dimensions of the rooms be adapted to the requirements of the new machinery, &c. already purchased for Stamps printing, together with any other necessary arrangements which may be deemed advisable

Subject the Supts opinion. The question of constructing an additional block to the Govt Press is closely connected with the question of the removal or retention of the Military Stores & Work Shops in their present buildings. If the Stores are to be removed to Inverness Dipalya as was contemplated at one time the buildings vacated can be utilized by the Press with suitable alterations. Otherwise additional buildings will have to be constructed to meet the requirements of the Press. The Military

(2) The need for additional accommodation for the numerous offices now located in the Public offices buildings in the Victoria Park is being keenly felt every day.

(3) It has been brought to notice by Mr Yates that the accommodation provided for the Stamp manufactory in the Public offices is quite inadequate and he has suggested the Extension of the present premises by the addition of a quadrangle to accommodate the Stamp manufactory and also provide him additional accommodation required for his Stationary Dept under his charge

V If Mr Yates's proposal is approved + sanctioned his Rooms now occupied by his Stamp manufactory may be set free for his use & his Compositors & Press who are pressing for additional accommodation

The proposal location of his Stamp manufactory in his same building as his Press will have also the advantage that it will be under the directly under his Eye & Mr Yates, whereas now his Stamp manufactory is in one place and Mr Yates's office is in another

W The Estimate prepared in 1906 for about Rs 54,000 provides for Extending his Press building by his addition of two single storied wings in continuation of his Existing wings & the building will be and a two storied front block. Mr Yates whom I consulted in his matter today says that since his above Estimate was prepared he has for pasturage & some rooms which have been in his occupation & the Educational Dept in his own buildings, and that it will be necessary subsequently if a single storied Extension is constructed in accordance with the plan originally proposed, and that it is not necessary to have a two storied front block. If instead of a two storied front block one have this which the Extension & one storey, the Estimate may be appreciably reduced; and it may be possible to keep it within 30 or 35 thousand Rupees.

29) Expressing his urgent necessity for his building, I would suggest that his Chief Engr may be asked to prepare revised plans & Estimate in consultation with Mr Yates & send ~~in accordance with~~ his present requirements & this Secretariat for their and that early steps may be asked to be taken for his construction this building, the necessary funds being found either by a reappropriation of the sanctioned grants for his current year if possible or by a fresh grant if necessary

SIR,

I have the honour to report my visit in accordance with the personal instruction of the Dewan, the Deputy Chief Engineer and the Executive Engineer, Bangalore Division, inspected the Press premises with a view to consider the best mode of providing the necessary additional accommodation for the Steam Jr. Manufactory. I was also present with them, and it was finally suggested that the best course would be to build the ground floor rooms of the proposed front quadrangle, leaving the building of the two side wings for a later date; but joining the projections new building to the existing building with compound walls, which would be utilized for the ultimate completion of the quadrangle.

The Deputy Chief Engineer is accordingly requested to prepare the necessary plans and estimates to be prepared immediately in view to Government sanction being obtained and the work put in hand without delay. The plans and estimates, duly certified as recommended by the Deputy Chief Engineer's D.O. with which they were sent are herewith submitted. It is great that Government may be pleased to accord very early sanction for the same. The work is estimated to cost about Rs: 19,700, of which only Rs: 10,000 will be required as a special grant this year, the balance being provided in the next year's P. W. Budget. The Deputy Chief Engineer promises to hand over the building by the end of June 1913
